Article Body:

With this years awards being split into 2 main categories, and for that matter two arenas, adult industry expo. Day one was expo day and resembled an upmarket car boots sale, albeit the products where shiny. The big guns where out in force with Doc Jonson commanding a prime spot in the arena, the big boys. Moving on to the awards on day two of the event and there was a little surprise, but not in fact. One interesting male sex toy that seems to have made a resurgence and indeed picked up Best in Show. Best selling toy of 2006, no prizes for guessing this one and with worldwide sales in the millions. With attendance of in excess of 50,000 people in one weekend the show has been a massive hit.
