

Title:

How to Make a Web Site of Your Own?

Word Count:

443

Summary:

Advice on how to build a web site on your own or using online website builders. Creating your

Keywords:

website design, web programming, programming languages, web development, ASP, PHP, dynamic data

Article Body:

Now a day the business is not only restricted within one area. Because of today is on demand of

There are many templates online to create your page. You can use free HTML templates and fill

Now you can start simple design pages using Dream Weaver after downloading templates into your

We are defining here two standard web programming language PHP (Hyper text processor) and ASP

To develop dynamic database oriented websites these both programming languages are used. Micro

Both web programming languages PHP and ASP are used to develop dynamic database oriented websi

And the last if possible, with some optimization to your website for top ranking on the search

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>