So, you just received an application for a credit card in the mail or you happened to come across

There are some people that believe that there are certain personal characteristics that can help

1. Excessive spender-are you an excessive spender? Do you have a problem with spending too much?
2. Previous Credit cards-Do you have several other credit cards that you have fallen behind on?
3. Consistently late on payments-Are you ALWAYS late on payments on your bills or other payments?

There are several credit cards out there specifically for those that have bad credit or no credit

Above I have listed three personal characteristics that are great in helping to determine if you
