

Title:

Piano Care for New Piano Owners

Word Count:

1236

Summary:

A guide to piano maintenance for new piano owners.

Keywords:

piano tuning, piano cleaning, piano maintenance, piano care

Article Body:

Congratulations, you have just acquired a wonderful new addition for your home! This new addition

What is a piano tuning and why is it necessary?

There are over 200 strings in your piano, which are stretched at high tension across the frame.

While not having your piano tuned regularly will not in itself damage the piano, playing on a

How often should I have my piano tuned?

Generally a piano should be tuned twice per year in order to keep it in good playing condition.

How can I ensure better tuning stability in my piano?

The biggest factor that causes a piano to go out of tune is the temperature and humidity in the

If the temperature and humidity in the room are kept stable, the piano will stay in tune longer.

Placement of the Piano in the Room

Place the piano away from heating ducts, hot air registers and radiators. These items generally

Also, be aware of how other items in the room will affect your piano's sound. Items such as

Cleaning and Polishing Your Piano

Polishing the Piano: It is generally not recommended to use furniture polish on pianos. The b

Cleaning the Piano Keys: It is recommended to use a clean damp cloth to clean the tops of the

Cleaning the Interior of the Piano: It is generally recommended that the inside of the piano

Taking the time to care for your piano properly and having it service by a qualified piano tec

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>