Joe Ranft knew how to live. Considered the heart of Pixar's films his sense of humor and gift

1. The journey is the reward.

I want it now. I can't wait. Hurry, hurry. Show me the money. What do I get? Life will be better

Stop.

What about now? What about doing without knowing what will result, just for the fun of it?

This is what Kathan Brown, a client of mine who is legendary in the print making/etching world

"Thirty-three years ago when I founded Crown Point Press I didn't have a clear plan, but I liked

She goes on to say that she started the press for her friends who were painters and sculptors

During this time when our troops and the Iraqi people continue to die, when hundreds have died

And while the journey is the reward, Kathan says, "You can't just sit around and enjoy. You also

2. Trust the process.

Process is often mysterious, frustrating and slow. Process is also miraculous, easy and instant

Margaret Welty is a great example of trusting the process. She's an artist and gifted teacher

She practices weekly with her soundbite buddy and has done so for over six months. She's made

Even me? With Margaret holding my hand I will trust the process and give it a go. No doubt Joe
