

Title:

The Business Side Of Magic Shows: Finding Your Gigs

Word Count:

769

Summary:

If you've got the heart to perform, the desire to entertain and the will to succeed, then the
You've decided to embark on a career that involves connecting with audiences by entertaining t

Keywords:

magic, magician, shows,

Article Body:

If you've got the heart to perform, the desire to entertain and the will to succeed, then the
You've decided to embark on a career that involves connecting with audiences by entertaining t
That can get tricky because with so much competition out there, being good at your show may no
First thing you should know is what kind of audience you'd want to perform for. Are you more i
Once you've established your target audience and you've created the best show you can for it,
After creating your demo video, you will need to look at your calendar to see what times of th
However, that one call should be followed up by at least 2 more over the course of a quarter.
If you are prepared to do some pro-bono work or for a very low fee, then participating in as m
Finally, if you are truly committed to the profession of magic and illusion shows, it will hel
With all these information in getting your next gigs, it cannot be stressed enough that you ne
But if your desire to entertain and interact with your audience is genuine, they will be able

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>