

Title:

5 Lessons Your Kids Will Learn By Starting A Business

Word Count:

349

Summary:

Kids need to be kids and enjoy their time as children. But, at the same time, as they get older

Oftentimes, they get a job at a Burger Joint, where they learn how to listen to a boss, and how

Keywords:

kids in business, home business

Article Body:

Kids need to be kids and enjoy their time as children. But, at the same time, as they get older

Oftentimes, they get a job at a Burger Joint, where they learn how to listen to a boss, and how

Why? Let's compare the lessons your kid is learning working at a burger joint verses starting

1. Responsibility.

Burger Joint: Yes, it teaches responsibility. You need to show up for work and do a good job of Entrepreneur: Teaches you responsibility as well. You need to work hard or you won't get paid.

2. The Value of a Dollar

Burger Joint: You learn that time is money.

Entrepreneur: You learn that creativity, ownership of responsibility and hard work is money.

3. How to Market Yourself

Burger Joint: Teaches you how to fill out an application and go on an interview to market your Entrepreneur: You have to market yourself and your business on an ongoing basis if you want to

4. Customer Service

Burger Joint: Service with a smile or your boss may reprimand you.

Entrepreneur: Service with a smile or you don't get repeat business and your income drops.

5. Banking Skills

Burger Joint: You learn how to collect a paycheck and how to deposit it into the bank.

Entrepreneur: You learn how to budget for advertising costs, taxes, and expenses and weigh the

As you can see, both options have benefits. As for which option you'll choose? That's up to you

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>

