

Title:

6 Ways To Fund Your New Business

Word Count:

943

Summary:

I'm often asked: what is the best way to finance a new business venture. This question is usually

The answers, respectively, are: 1. there is no "best" way to fund a new business; and 2. I do

The truth is there are a variety of ways to finance a new business and which way is best for y

Keywords:

saving, investment, mortgage, investors, venture capitalist, Tim Knox, Small business

Article Body:

I'm often asked: what is the best way to finance a new business venture. This question is usually

The answers, respectively, are: 1. there is no "best" way to fund a new business; and 2. I do

The truth is there are a variety of ways to finance a new business and which way is best for y

So with that in mind, here are a few of the most common ways to finance a new business without

Savings and Investments

The first source you should consider tapping is your own savings and investments. I'm a huge fan of

Friends and Family

After tapping their own savings and investments, many entrepreneurs turn to friends and family

Credit Cards

I financed my first business on credit cards, which was an incredibly stupid thing to do given

Mortgage The Farm

Bank loans are next to impossible to get if you don't have collateral and a track record of bu

Angel Investors

An angel investor is typically a wealthy individual who invests in start up ventures for a sha

Venture Capitalists

Venture capitalists are to angel investors as pit bulls are to Chihuahuas. That's not to say a

If your business gets to the level that VC money becomes a viable option, don't jump at the fi

Just remember, no matter how you finance your business, use the money wisely. Don't buy $1,500

Have a very clear plan of how the money will be used and how it will be paid back.

And remember this, the more you can shoestring the business, but more of the business you will

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1
Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>
Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>