The Costs of Replacement: High Direct Costs and Indirect Costs

When you are planning to refurbish a manufacturing facility, municipal building or warehouse,

The direct costs of replacement are obvious. Materials, man-hours and installation eat up most

Compared to indirect costs, though, the direct costs of replacement are strictly minor league.

The Costs of Painting: Lower Direct Costs and Greatly Reduced Indirect Costs

Painting usually has lower manpower costs. However, if a surface needs to be specially treated

Indirect costs are lower as well. A good industrial painting company is often able to fit work

Painting can be a cost effective part of your refurbishment strategy. Contact your industrial
