A USB drive also makes a great temporary backup medium for the really important files you create.

8: Blank CD-R Discs

You've just finished your big sales presentation. Someone from the audience approaches you afterwards.

You'll make a better impression if you burn them a CD of the presentation on the spot.

9: Stereo Headset

It's great to be able to watch DVD movies no matter where you are. Imagine watching your favourite DVD.

There's just one problem.

The family in the row behind you has absolutely no interest in hearing the dialog from the laptop.

Do yourself and everyone around you a favour. When you're watching movies or listening to music, use a headset.

10: Security Device

Laptop security devices come in many shapes and sizes.

For example, most laptops include a security dock that allows you to attach your laptop to some form of security device.
