Cost benefit analysis, Outsource your bookkeeping, whether you should outsource your bookkeeping

Article Body:

What is a role of a bookkeeper in your organisation :

BOOKKEEPERS keep complete, up-to-date, and accurate records of accounts and financial arrangements.

Cost of a Bookkeeper :

The pay for these jobs depends upon experience, clerical skills, the level of responsibility and the size of the business.

Advantage of outsourcing Bookkeeping work to a professional bookkeeper :

There are several distinct advantages to outsourcing your bookkeeping functions. First and foremost, you save money.

And just how do you save money by paying three times the amount you would pay an employee? Well, you save on several things.

And of course you will not be paying workman's compensation and general liability insurance premiums.

Most professional bookkeepers will have their own offices saving you space within your office.

And the best reason for outsourcing is that you control the amount of money spent on bookkeeping.

So have I convinced you yet? If so, then just remember "you will get what you pay for". Go for it!
