Have you ever had the feeling that you are just in the middle of nowhere with your online business?

That you are on your own out in the cyber desert?

Totally separated from the outside world?

Should I use the term alienated from the outside world?

Did these weird feelings put their negative marks on the your daily performance of your online business?

If the answer to these questions are YES, than I have good news for you:

YOU'RE NOT ALONE!

I don't have physical proof(!) but I am almost sure than hundreds of thousands of honest hard workers.

After working 3 days straight in your home office you pop down to the local mall and it feels like you are in a different world.

What are these people doing here?

They are talking to each other.

They are serving flesh and blood customers and others are cleaning brick and mortar premises?

Are they nuts?

Or am I nuts?

NONE of the ABOVE.

ALL online marketers can get into this weird state of mind and loose perception of the outside world.

I know I can.

But here's the quick fix for the problem:

Find a totally traditional offline activity, stick to it and practice it at least once a week.

What kind of activity should I look for, you may ask?

Any kind...fencing, play the guitar, dancing, songwriting cooking, gardening, playing the drums

Whatever...OFFLINE!

Your options are endless, but you need to pick one.

You will re-discover a totally different world. The REAL ONE.

You will come back to life and terms with your profession, which is online marketing: spending

You need to talk to real people too. Talk to your neighbors, friends, family. Go to clubs, pub

Go out to the local park, and just run, run run...

Breathe in some fresh air.

I have just recently discovered my all time passion which is songwriting.

I can't dedicate too much time to my passion, but I do dedicate a certain hour of a certain da

It is meditation. It is therapy. It's a cure.

It simply feels great.

It helps me immensely to push my online marketing business forward, to be more help of my fami
