Article Body:

With rising fuel costs it just seems like everything we buy on a daily basis is going up in price.

When you first start up a cleaning business you need to create a registered company in your state.

The second thing you're going to need when starting a cleaning business are clients. Start small.

After you have gotten yourself one or two clients it's time to set a price. Meet with your clients.

After you've got your client and your list of cleaning tasks you'll need some basic cleaning supplies.

Once you've got your cleaning supplies and you've set up a schedule with your clients it's time to start.
