Laptops are gaining in popularity these days. Almost everyone is carrying one now either for work or for entertainment.

Buy cheap laptop with older technology

Rapid advance in technology makes it meaningless to buy the latest technology at a high price.

Buy used or refurbished laptop

The depreciation of a laptop value is so high, that after one year in the market, a laptop can be worth only half of its original price.

Buy laptop from power users or gamers

I like to buy electronic gadgets including laptops from hard core power users or gamers. Let me know if you have any suggestions.

Scan through gaming forums and local gaming community

if you do not already have friends who like to play computer games, then scanning through gaming forums and local gaming community can be a good idea.

Scan through local bulletin boards

Do scan through local bulletin boards near you for cheap deals on laptop. Especially if there are any local computer stores.

Look for cheap laptop with at least 512mb memory

This is especially important for used laptop. If the processor speed is slow, then having more memory can help.

Get cheap laptop from reputable manufacturer

This is very important because if you are buying used laptop, then the chances of requiring service are high.
