There are so many great things about the internet you know that there is going to be problems.

Well, there are all sorts of different kinds of virus-type things traveling around in cyber space.

Spyware is an example of the latter effect. It is designed to come in via the internet (usually through a download).

Anyway, as you may or may not know, there has been a new revolution of security (anti virus) software.

My recommendation is to get a more well known software package and be willing to spend a bit, but it's worth it.
