

Title:

Has Someone Stolen Your Identity? Here Are 8 Ways to Tell

Word Count:

571

Summary:

Mail is missing, money is disappearing from your bank account. Is it possible that someone has

Keywords:

identity theft, credit report

Article Body:

Right now, someone could be using your identity to start a new credit card, to get a loan, to

Thankfully, there are some ways for you to detect identity theft before the problems progress

1. Errors on your credit report ~ By checking your credit report yearly, you'll be able to
2. Mail problems ~ One of the least-technological ways to commit identity theft is stealing
3. Being rejected for credit you didn't request ~ As you may already know, if a creditor re
4. Being the victim of pretexting ~ Pretexting is a scheme involving the Internet or the te
5. Changes in your credit balances or checking account amounts ~ Unexplained changes in any
6. Being denied credit ~ Sadly, some people don't discover they have been identity theft vi
7. Being contacted by debt collectors ~ When you start getting calls or letters about unpai
8. Having some types of spyware on your computer ~ While not all spyware leads to identity

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>