

Title:

Patent It - If You Don't, Someone Else Will!

Word Count:

516

Summary:

Do you have an invention that has been burrowing away in your mind for years? Do you think it

Whilst it can seem quite expensive to buy a patent for something that is currently only an idea

Keywords:

patent, patents, inventions, inventing, new ideas

Article Body:

Do you have an invention that has been burrowing away in your mind for years? Do you think it

Whilst it can seem quite expensive to buy a patent for something that is currently only an idea

Patents are awarded by the government and give an inventor the right to stop others using, selling

A patent gives you the right to stop others from making your invention, but it does not give you

The two main types available in the United States are Design and Utility. Utility patents are

If you have a new, original and ornamental design for an article of manufacture, in the United

Additionally, Plant patents are available to anyone who discovers and can asexually reproduce

The rules for awarding these property rights include the fact that your invention must be ^{useful}

Abstract ideas, including laws of nature and observed or created physical phenomenon, cannot be

Sometimes you have an idea, but do not know it already exists somewhere. If other people in the

Furthermore, if your invention has appeared in a printed publication in any country in the world

For more information, you may wish to look up the Patent and Trademark office of your government

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>