

Title:

Security A 21st Century Concern

Word Count:

504

Summary:

Security is of major concern in today's world as the world has become increasingly complex and

Ranging from running adware to hijacking browsers, infecting computers w...

Keywords:

Article Body:

Security is of major concern in today's world as the world has become increasingly complex and

Ranging from running adware to hijacking browsers, infecting computers with malware and spyware

One of the most prevalent penetrators through computer firewalls and security systems, is the

The network-oriented infection strategy is indeed a primary difference between viruses and worms

Each computer worm has a few essential components, such as the target locator and the infection

Another important component of a worm is remote control using a communication module. Without

The attacker is interested in changing the behavior of the worm and even sending new infections

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>