

Title:

Why Marijuana Should be Legal

Word Count:

516

Summary:

Many Americans feel that Marijuana is helping fund the war on terror, but making a war on drugs

Keywords:

drugs, society, law, government and society, smoking, health

Article Body:

Many Americans feel that Marijuana is helping fund the war on terror, but making a war on drugs

First, why is Marijuana illegal? In the 1930's William Randolph Hearst, who had significant financial

The truth is many paper manufacturers were thinking of changing from using trees to make paper

So now that we know why it was made illegal, we can realize that not only would making it legal

Hemp has thousands of uses that we are unable to exploit because of its illegal status.

During WWII hemp was used for the rigging on parachutes as well as rope and material for uniforms

Nowadays Marijuana can be used to relieve pain and some of the effects of cancer treatments and

It has been proven to slow down the spreading of Alzheimer's, relieve the pressure behind the

But until the United States realizes how much money can be made from legalizing it, it will remain

This is much like the situation with online casinos in the USA. America was sending billions of

Eventually the USA will realize that the best way to stop the flow of money out of the country

If the USA did what Amsterdam has done the government would make not only billions in taxes from

The truth of the matter is that legalization is inevitable. The attitude of people has changed

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>