Thousands upon thousands of Australian employees and employers have billions of dollars in unclaimed superannuation.

So how do you know if you are one of the 4.3 million Australian with unclaimed or lost Superannuation?

Anybody who has worked for any amount of time at one stage or another has had employer contributions.

Like most of us, you have had a least 4 to 8 fulltime or parttime jobs in your career and with each job you have had employer contributions.

But none the less most of us would have no idea how much lost or unclaimed superannuation we have.

But, you can know find out and in most cases it totally free to find it. If you don't have the time or energy to do it yourself.

The Australian Tax Office has a service they call SuperSeeker which searches the ATO Superannuation database.

To find Superannuation you may have forgot about or just wasn't sure the amount, visit <https://www.ato.gov.au/ATO/your-industry/superseeker>

It's your money, so go and get it.
