

Title:

Heavy Debts Implicated In Suicide

Word Count:

298

Summary:

The Royal Bank of Scotland (RBS) will be investigated following suggestions that irresponsible

Richard Cullen, 65, took his own life in January 2005 after amassing credit card debts of £130

Banking watchdog, the Banking Code Standards Board (BCSB), will now investigate RBS's lending

Keywords:

tml, loan, loans, debt consolidation, credit cards

Article Body:

The Royal Bank of Scotland (RBS) will be investigated following suggestions that irresponsible

Richard Cullen, 65, took his own life in January 2005 after amassing credit card debts of £130

Banking watchdog, the Banking Code Standards Board (BCSB), will now investigate RBS's lending

I find it extraordinary that this has happened, chief executive Seymour Fortescue told BBC's P

In November 2004, the limit on Mr Cullen's Tesco Personal Finance card, (a card which is opera

In total the mechanic owed RBS more than double his annual salary. Spread over four cards, the

Mr Fortescue confirmed that the BCSC is seeking the authority of the Cullen family to conduct

Meanwhile, the bank has defended itself against charges of irresponsible lending.

In a statement issued to Panorama The Royal Bank of Scotland said: Mr Cullen did not make us a

Mr Cullen also owed money on a further 18 credit cards held with different providers.

© Adfero Ltd

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>