

Title:

Living On One Income

Word Count:

731

Summary:

It seems as if every family today is a two income family. It can be difficult to live on one i

Keywords:

finance, living frugally

Article Body:

It seems as if every family today is a two income family. It can be difficult to live on one i

Yes. One third of all households are led by single parents. Some statistics seem to say that m

Many couples begin to realize that having both spouses work doesn't really add up to that much

For example, we realized that not only were we paying the maintenance, gas and repairs on a ve

But the step to living on one income is not an easy one. We had always planned for me to be a

It is really hard to adjust to one income. You may have to cut out some extra things to make i

You don't have to have children to stay at home. We are conditioned that everyone has to work

What are some things you can do to prepare yourself for one income?

1. Start with cutting down your debt. Credit cards have to go. They are way too tempting to ha

2. Look at what is necessary. For example, do you really need to pay a water service for a wat

3. Be frugal in your decisions. This is a habit that takes time to form. The key is to focus o

4. Take on extra work. If you are highly skilled, you will probably be able to find some way t

5. Have an emergency fund. When only one person works, if they are injured or have an accident

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>