

Title:

Omaha Rules: How to Play Omaha Poker

Word Count:

706

Summary:

This comprehensive Omaha poker tutorial will teach you how to play Omaha poker high and Omaha

Keywords:

Omaha poker, poker, casino, casinos, poker rooms, online poker, tournaments, gambling, casinos

Article Body:

Omaha poker is starting to become almost as popular as Texas Holdem poker in casino poker rooms.

However, Omaha poker and Texas Holdem poker are different games and they certainly require using different

Omaha High Rules

The play begins with the player to the dealers immediate left who posts the small blind, usually half the

After the blinds are posted, the dealer deals each player four face down cards, starting from the player to

The first round of betting continues until it gets to the player who posted the small blind. In Omaha high

After the first round of betting is complete, the dealer places three face up cards in the center of the

When the second round of betting is done, the dealer places a fourth community card in the center of the

After the last round of betting, all the remaining players are exposing their hands, known as the showdown.

Omaha High Low Rules

Omaha high low is played exactly like Omaha high until the showdown. In Omaha high low, the pot is split

Omaha high low is also referred to as Omaha 8 or better. It means that in order to qualify as a high

It sometimes occurs in Omaha high low poker game that the pot splits between more than two players.

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>