

Title:

Springbank Scotch Whisky

Word Count:

529

Summary:

SPRINGBANK The decline of Campbeltown as a distilling capital came suddenly. Of the 21 distill

Keywords:

food, drink, alcohol, recipe, whisky

Article Body:

SPRINGBANK The decline of Campbeltown as a distilling capital came suddenly. Of the 21 distill

A resolute pillar of tradition, family-owned Springbank is the only malt distillery where the

But is Springbank just an anachronism in today's industry? 'The industry is becoming less and

For manager Frank McHardy, tradition makes a difference to the quality of the spirit. 'People

His Bushmills' experience is proving particularly useful in developing Springbank's latest add

TASTING NOTES

Springbank 10-year-old

46%ABV full, malty nose with some sea air, spice, pigskin and toffee apple. Very smooth and sw

Springbank 15-year-old

46%ABV Well balanced between vanilla, creme brulee, salty sea air burnt range and smoky wood.

Springbank 21-year-old

46%ABV Amber colour. Peach, raisin ozone, smoke, fluxing between caramelized orange and salt.

Springbank 1966 Local Barley

54.4%ABV Huge nose mixing coal bunker, sweetly ripe fruit, hickory wood and almost rancio-like

Longrow 10-year-old

Attractive mix of muted/turfy peat smoke with a perfumed rose-petal lift. A drop of water kind

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>