

Title:

A Quick Look at Depression and Teen Suicide

Word Count:

716

Summary:

Teenage suicide is an alarming factor in the US and the statistics are increasing. Suicide is

Keywords:

depression, weight loss

Article Body:

An alarming truth: teen girls and boys are both at risk for suicide. Though many do not recognize

Teenage girls are more likely to attempt suicide, but teenage boys are four to five times more

What are the major factors that influence or cause teenage suicide? It is said that depression

Depression or depressive disorders (unipolar depression) are mental illnesses characterized by

Depression affects a person's thoughts in such a way that the person doesn't see that he or she

Further, teenagers who feel suicidal may not even realize that they are depressed. They may even

We must realize that it is common for teenagers to have some thoughts about death. These thoughts

Counselors and therapists can provide emotional support and can help teens develop coping skills

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>