

Title:

Central Sleep Apnea

Word Count:

286

Summary:

Central sleep apnea is a rare condition characterized by a cessation or decrease in breathing

Keywords:

Sleep Apnea, Obstructive Sleep Apnea, Central Sleep Apnea, Sleep Apnea Machines

Article Body:

Central sleep apnea is a rare condition characterized by a cessation or decrease in breathing

The symptoms of central sleep apnea are loud snoring, hypersomnolence (excessive daytime sleep

Other symptoms of central sleep apnea include choking or gasping during sleep, unrefreshing sl

The hypoxic and hypercapnic drives can be impaired by brain stem lesions or by exposure to rec

The most common and effective treatment option for patients of central sleep apnea is assisted

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>