

Title:

Children in need, not misdeed

Word Count:

688

Summary:

Child maltreatment is a behavior toward a child that is outside the norms of conduct and entails

Keywords:

counseling, depression

Article Body:

In the Philippines, there are more than 36 million people under 19 years old who are living in

Recently, a survey by the Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD) reflected a sudden

The causes of child maltreatment are varied and not well understood. Abuse and neglect are often

Child abuse is also linked to an increase risk of substance abuse, eating disorders, obesity,

Although it is said that the most important relationship for all beings is that with their parents

Children who have been maltreated are usually unwilling or unable to reveal their situation to Individual and group counseling sessions usually take two years or even longer. The goal of un-

It is important to help a child deal with the abuse as well as the psychological problems they

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>