

Title:

Common Criteria: A Prime Factor In Information Security For The Dod

Word Count:

981

Summary:

Is your vital selective information secure. How do you know. There ar several ways to increase

But perhaps the easiest method, and one that is now mandatory for the Department of Defense, i

Keywords:

security,criteria

Article Body:

Is your vital selective information secure. How do you know. There ar several ways to increase

But perhaps the easiest method, and one that is now mandatory for the Department of Defense, i

The answer is that certified products listed on the Subject Information Assurance Partnership

The plan was implemented to aid consumers select commercial off-the-shelf (COTS) IT products t

The other key element of Instruction 8500.2 is the inclusion of definitions for generic "hardi

The ISSE and DAA should besides consider the following when selecting the valuation confidence

Instruction 8500.2 too augments key points from Directive 8500.1. Products available "nether m

The instruction likewise states that "although products that wealthy person not satisfactorily

Vendors tin can work with their CCTL and the Defense to determine a reasonable period of time

CC certificate maintenance is another task that requires effort and planning on the part of th

You toilet obtain a copy of this document from any CCTL or the NIAP CCEVS. shorten officers sh

Further emphasizing the importance the federal government and placing on evaluations, public l

While experienced vendors will state that accomplishment policy requirements lavatory sometime

Such evaluations allow the to deliver confidence that the products it purchases meet the secur

The is as well for assisting the with the selection of the sureness layer for the since that p

The understand that such evaluations and their subsequent maintenance not trivial tasks: They

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>