

Title:

Hurricane Pet Preparedness

Word Count:

554

Summary:

The hurricane season varies from year to year so one cannot predict how strong the storms could

Keywords:

Emergency Preparedness, Hurricane Preparedness, Hurricane and Pets, Hurricane, Prepare My Family

Article Body:

brought to you by www.PetsReady.com

The hurricane season varies from year to year so one cannot predict how strong the storms could

Learning from the lessons of Katrina, many people rethink their approach to emergencies. It would

There are some specific things (in addition to getting an emergency supply kit) we could take

- Watch the news carefully. Hurricanes are known to change speed and direction at a moment's

- If you don't have a basement or know your home won't withstand a wind force of more than 6

- Put your animals in one room where it is easy for you to care and pack them if you have to

- Many people forget that sometimes rain and wind precede a tornado or a hurricane. In that

- As most shelters won't be able to take in pets, ask if they have any adjacent premises that

Hurricane season takes place every year. Be responsible and take some steps to minimize the risk

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>