

Title:

Interior Design Made Easy

Word Count:

471

Summary:

There are several important principles to consider when doing interior design.

Keywords:

home, interior design, house, designing, home design

Article Body:

When you are designing your house you need to take into account many factors. A great looking house

Balance is very important when designing the inside of your house. A lack of balance can show

The focus of the room is another important aspect to consider. It is the focal point of the room

Subtlety must also be taken into account, how restrained you are has a large effect on the design

Proportion is another important principle. This includes size, weight and colour. This has a direct

You need to consider the harmony of the room. Though closely related to balance harmony is also

So if you are looking to design your own house, you must be careful to consider all these principles

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>