Article Body:

Here are some excellent tips for making some awesome faux finishes:

1. Start off with just a small space to get the hang of things before trying to tackle an entire room.
2. Always make sure that the workspace that you are using is neat and tidy. Nothing worse than a messy workspace.
3. When doing a faux finish to a room, always tape off anything that is not going to get painted.
4. When you are starting to try a new technique for a faux finish, try getting samples of the finish on a small piece of wood or paper.
5. When shopping for glaze, buy the best that you can afford. If you can afford not to skimp on quality, do so.
