

Title:

Teaching Patriotism To Our Children

Word Count:

482

Summary:

Since September 11, 2001 Independence Day for the United States on July 4th has been especially

Children need to feel a sense of belonging too, in their family, their classrooms and in their

Keywords:

Teaching Patriotism to Our Children, Christian and patriotic parental teachings, Home school

Article Body:

Since September 11, 2001 Independence Day for the United States on July 4th has been especially

Children need to feel a sense of belonging too, in their family, their classrooms and in their

One of our greatest challenges as parents is to raise our children to be honorable and respect

Our babies learn kindness at first from our gentle touch; they also learn self-esteem by our p

Children should be taught that, while it might be ^legal~ to burn their country's flag as an e

Children need to know they are a very large and integral part of their country's make up. They

Is it too much to ask that our children be patriotic, actively show patriotism, honor their fl

It is our job to instill a sense of honor and patriotism in their young hearts, offering them

As much as we want our children to love their country, we also need to recognize the importanc

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>