Let's talk what it will cost upfront. For $10 - $20/month you can have a working website (Imag

There are 3 basic components required to building a personal, custom website.

You need:

- A domain name
- A hosting account and
- Content written in HTML or some other web language.

I know, what's a domain name!!!?

Here is an analogy I teach:

You live in a home that is built on a certain piece of land (that you rent or buy). That piece

Your website (a collection of individual web pages) sits on a hosting account that you rent. T

Your Home	Your Website
Your Street Address: e.g. 1 John St, Anytown
Your domain name: e.g. www.yourname.com
Your plot of land	Your hosting account
Your physical house	Your web content

Here is the 3 step process:

STEP 1: Choose your address

STEP 2: Rent some space on a computer connected to the internet

STEP 3: Build the house you want and place it on the space you bought in step 2

Let's explain each step:

STEP 1: Choose your address (a domain name)

With the internet you can choose what you want your address to be (your domain name). What ar

STEP 2: Rent some space on a computer connected to the internet (A hosting account)

STEP 3: Build the house you want and place it on the space you bought in step 2

You have some choices to make here:

A - You can ask someone to build you a site.

B - You can build it yourself.

C - Use a free website builder ~ (like a blog)

Each has its pros and cons.

The first option is great if you can afford it and can find someone reliable. If you want chea

In future articles I'll take about next steps:

- ^I build it, but they ain't coming to see it.~

- ^I built it, but nobody's buying~

- ^I built it, but I don't know how to improve it.~

A journey of a million miles starts with one step ~ so go to step 1 and start. (Don't worry ~
