

Title:

Getting Your Site Indexed Before You Launch

Word Count:

631

Summary:

I've noticed that most SEO articles focus on what to do after you launch your site. Those that

The key to getting your site indexed i...

Keywords:

SEO, search engines, google, msn, yahoo, indexed

Article Body:

I've noticed that most SEO articles focus on what to do after you launch your site. Those that

The key to getting your site indexed in the big three is getting links pointing to it from sites

1. Register your domain name. You'd be surprised how many people wait until the last minute to

2. Put up a home page. Make a ^coming soon~ page with your logo, information about your site,

3. Start a blog and sign up for Feedburner. Put up a blog at www.yoursite.com/blog. It doesn't

4. Write a few articles and submit to directories. Regardless of what your site is about, the

5. Get a link from an indexed site. Steps 3 and 4 should result in some links from indexed sites

Getting yourself indexed before you launch gives you a head start on your SEO and will allow you

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>