

Title:

How To Obtain Residual Income For Your Website

Word Count:

290

Summary:

Residual income is income that is generated again and again from one initial endeavor or investment.

Selling advertising space on your website is a great way to create a stream of residual income.

Another stream of residual income can be obtained through website affiliates.

Keywords:

residual income, methods to obtain residual income, obtaining residual income

Article Body:

Residual income is income that is generated again and again from one initial endeavor or investment.

Selling advertising space on your website is a great way to create a stream of residual income.

Another stream of residual income can be obtained through website affiliates. Affiliate programs are a great way to generate residual income.

Residual income can be gained if you have a great amount of knowledge to share. Your website can be a great source of information.

Referrals are another stream of residual income that can be generated from your website. Location is a profit.

Pay-per-click links can also bring in a good stream of residual income. Look for pay-per-click opportunities.

These five streams of residual income when added to your website can bring in unlimited income.

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>