A web business is my last chance to succeed in the economic world and I'm counting on you Internet Mogul. Surly a few months of being an Internet Mogul and I'll be flush with success, just like you. A If I'm on a budget, $99 bucks will get me your hot-shot eBook with the 10 Magic Secretes of the Internet. Of course it's not worth the $99 that was so conveniently tacked onto my credit card bill in a marketing ploy. To really learn the secrets of you gurus, I gotta spend some money. After all, the honest ones don't lie. So for a mere $997, I can get a glimpse of your incredible wisdom sloppily photocopied and loaded onto a CD. Is there a better learning system out there? This mogul needs better training is she's going to be a mogul. Sorry, I'm not trying to insult anyone, certainly not a rich guy I'm seeking help from. I'm just trying to get some real information. How about stoping the sales pitches for a second and giving me some real information? How about don't tell me I can make 20 gazillion dollars while sound asleep and then follow it up with another sales pitch. Didn't you just tell me that it was? Oh, I get it. That's just a marketing ploy to make me beg you to take my money. Besides, you and your buddies selling crap to people like me, that's whose getting rich quick on the internet.
