That is precisely where we are drawn in and the process of 'feeling over whelmed' kicks in. Th

OK, so you've paid the subscription or whatever ~ then what ~ sit back and watch the bank balanc

Wouldn't it be great if part of the enrolment process included a section of information about

- You need a PLAN
- You need Start-up Money
- You need to know how to or where to find information about building a list or network
- You need to understand that this business requires hard work
- You must understand that it will take TIME, not days or weeks, rather months.
- Offer immediate, REAL support in getting started ~ not just a promise, but a plan.

These are only some of the basics that should perhaps be made available. You may think this is

There is a huge amount of information out there that unfortunately only really becomes availabl

This goes to the offer of real support, it should be the absolute role of the up-line / recrui

So, what do you want for a buck?

If I can leave you with one thought for today:

There is NEVER a free meal ~ any road to success requires hard work and dedication with a clea
