Title:
Search Results Clustering Demystified

Word Count:
1231

Summary:
Clustering may mean to have two or more computer systems working together or multiple servers

Keywords:
internet, clustering, seo, online business

Article Body:
Clustering may mean to have two or more computer systems working together or multiple servers

Why Clustering is Needed

The use of the vast information available online cannot be maximized unless an effective means

When a search engine provides millions of results for a particular query, the searcher can eit

Clustering engines automatically cluster results into categories that have been intelligently

With the great improvement of search engines´ capability to return a large number of relevant

A good cluster is considered such if it possesses a readable description. It should be able to

Search Engines that Clusters

Google Sets do not provide results but rather helps in finding similar terms to the ones enter

Wisenut is a full-text search engine which provides for related topics aside from a number of

Teoma has been dubbed as the ˆGoogle Killer˜ due to its very interesting clustering technology

Infonetware.com is more of a demonstration of Infonetware´s Real Term Technology than a search

Oingo uses the open Directory Project as its search source. The search results page gives a dr

Vivisimo is a meta-search engine that clusters its results. It provides a very simple front pa

Query Server offers several types of search on the left side of the front page. Each search ha

Surfwax offers both subscription based and free services. A focus link can be seen in the uppe

Northern Light News search requires a search to have a certain number of results in order to b

Clustering search engines break up several hundred results into manageable packages. Suggestio