

Title:

The New Voice Interface For Search Engine: Searching Made Easy

Word Count:

1029

Summary:

At one point or another, every one of us has been faced with difficulties while trying to search

The problems that you will encounter are numerous and even though you are searching with the a

Keywords:

internet, SEO, Software development, technology

Article Body:

At one point or another, every one of us has been faced with difficulties while trying to search

The problems that you will encounter are numerous and even though you are searching with the a

There are various search technologies already available and selecting one that is suitable would

Have you heard of voice-activated Internet surfing and searching? Believe it or not that technol

Indeed, but not quite. Those who are familiar with voice-activated software that is currently

Another thing, the environment is also significant. If you want your voice interface to work p

Just what is a voice interface for search engines? Well, this is one of the most promising sea

The voice interface is would be beneficial to the information retrieval systems and, more spec

There are several problems that exist in designing satisfactory voice interfaces. One of which

Other speech recognition applications a recognizer can use context, like a dialogue history in

Fortunately, the current patent application associated in voice interfaces for search engines

By limiting the number of possible speeches, the problem in speech recognition task would decr

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>