

Title:

Why Do We Read Magazines?

Word Count:

656

Summary:

In a world of instant information it would seem that the sale of magazines would be obsolete.

...

Keywords:

Article Body:

In a world of instant information it would seem that the sale of magazines would be obsolete.

There is something about the feel of the pages between your finger tips that a computer screen

The history of the magazine dates all the way back to the 1700's when the aristocracy read per

By the 1830's magazines were much less expensive and therefore available to the masses. Because

During the late 1800's improvements to magazines came about through the process of better prin

With the turn of the century came better education. As more and more people were able to recei

The popularity of magazines is sustained because you can pick up a magazine at anytime and bro

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>