

Title:

Live Poker: Pros and Cons of Participating in a Tournament

Word Count:

532

Summary:

Learn why you should stop playing poker at casinos. Instead, opt for satellite tournaments to

Keywords:

poker, live poker, tournament, card games, games, gambling, casinos

Article Body:

If you have had enough of playing poker with friends or with playing it online and winning some

But, before you do, here are a few things you must consider:

- 1) One of the big differences of playing in a tournament is that you need to pick your hands carefully.
- 2) Money you take with you to tournaments lasts for a much lengthier period than when playing cash.
- 3) Do not sit to the left of the dealer. Ensure that there are at least two players between the dealer and you.
- 4) Take into consideration that the mere fact that you are away from home means that you will have to pay for travel and accommodation.
- 5) Tournament dealers are not paid much, and so it's general practice to give them about three dollars.
- 6) One of the other advantages of playing in a tournament is that you can use more money than you would in a cash game.
- 7) If high odds and high risk is not what you are looking for you can take advantage of the late position.

Conclusion:

Playing poker requires tremendous skill as well as some luck. While you cannot depend on luck, you can depend on your skill.

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>