

Title:

Who invented the vacuum cleaner?

Word Count:

515

Summary:

The invention of rug cleaning devices goes as far back as the 1860's and add William Hoover in

Keywords:

vacuum cleaners, miele, dyson, hoover, roomba

Article Body:

Like a lot of inventions over the years the invention of the vacuum cleaner is also surrounded

Firstly we can trace one of the earliest and better known devices back to 1860 when David Hess

However, it was only David Hess who thought there must be an easier way to do the rug cleaning

Then along came Melville Bissell, who's surname will sound familiar if you know your vacuum cl

But it wasn't until 1899, when what can be described as the first 'motorized' cleaner, was inv trailer outside the house and a very long hose was run inside to do the cleaning.

As time went by more and more inventors had a go at coming up with the ultimate cleaner and on for some reason he sold the patent to William Hoover. Yes, the man who's name has become synon described a clunky, noisy piece of hardware. Although innovative designs such as the Dyson and

Whoever is responsible for the invention of the vacuum cleaner, of which I believe there are m

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>