

Title:

Basketball: The Object of the Game

Word Count:

443

Summary:

Basketball is a fast paced game played on a 94-by-50 foot court (NBA) with 1 basket on opposit

Keywords:

sport, basketball, basketball plays, history of basketball, basketball court dimensions, baske

Article Body:

Basketball is a fast paced game played on a 94-by-50 foot court (NBA) with 1 basket on opposit

The game starts when the official tosses the ball between two players, one from each team, in

The goal is to score more points than their opponents.

In the professional setting, the game is divided into 2 halves or 4 quarters. Each quarter is 1

During each possession, the offensive team has a time limit to shoot the ball in the basket. T

There are basically 2 ways to shoot and score in a basketball game: shooting when the ball is

There are several ways to score during play. You can either take a perimeter shot or drive tow

Free throws are earned when the opposing team committs a technical foul or a personal foul. Tw

Each player is allowed to commit 5 personal fouls for each game to continue playing. The 6th f

In the event where the scores are tied at the end of the fourth quarter (or at the end of the

Note: other basketball leagues and basketball associations such as FIBA follow their own sets

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>