Article Body:

An outdoor recreational activity, camping involves people spending the night in tents at a camp.

The recreational vehicles are luxurious and have all types of modern facilities like air conditioning.

A tent consists of sheets of fabric that are attached to different poles to produce a shelter.

It is important to plan your camping well in advance. Always expect the unexpected. Consider the weather.

Always be prepared to face weather change while you are camping. Make sure that you are carrying a first aid kit.

Beware of insect bites and stings. Always use a DEET-based insect repellent and check for bite marks.
