Article Body:

Pool tables come in 7-, 8-, or 9-foot lengths. The size you choose is a matter of available space.

The pool table is comprised of a body, a bed, side cushions, a felt-covered surface, and pockets.

The pool table bed is usually made of one piece of slate; this is the only type of surface that is used.

Cloth or felt color can come in a variety of colors. Sometimes a manufacturer or dealer will let you choose.

Brunswick is a leader in the industry. Brunswick offers over 34 models of pool tables, each with its own features.
