

Title:

Different Types of Basketball Violations

Word Count:

379

Summary:

Violations can be committed both by the offense and the defense. Here are those:

Keywords:

sport, basketball, basketball plays, history of basketball, basketball court dimensions, basket

Article Body:

Violations can be committed both by the offense and the defense. Here are those:

Violations committed by the offense:

Traveling or walk violation - is committed when the ball handler takes too many steps without

Backcourt violation or over-and-back - is committed when the player holding the ball crosses o

Double dribble - is a violation involving the ball handler. This violation is committed when t

Offensive foul - is committed when the ball handler attacks to the basket and deliberately hit

Offensive goal tending - is called when the player attempts to interfere with the ball while i

Five-second inbound violation - happens if the inbounder isn't able to pass the ball to his te

Three-second violation - is called when the offensive player stays inside the paint for 3 seco

Ten-second backcourt violation - is committed if the offensive team isn't able to cross the ba

Violations committed by the defense:

Foul - is called against the defensive player if he makes an illegal contact with the ball han

Intentional foul - is an intentional foul used to stop the clock or to send the opposing playe

Goaltending - is a violation where the defending player interferes with the ball on its way do

Illegal defense - is also called 3-second defensive violation. It is used to keep the defensiv

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>