If you want to understand how a rider's balance affects a horse's movement then read through.

- An off-balance rider typically falls behind the motion of the horse.
- Leaning to far forward is another mistake that riders make.
- Leaning more towards one side also affects the balance.
- Shifting the weight onto the wrong seat bone is another mistake that should be avoided.

If a rider goes off balance, the horse feels uncomfortable and is bound to react but this react

In the above mentioned scenarios, if anybody has to be blamed then it is the rider and not the
