

Title:

My Passion For Playing Snooker

Word Count:

309

Summary:

One of my great passions in life, if you could call it that is playing snooker. I became inter

Keywords:

snooker, hobbies, break, sport, passion

Article Body:

One of my great passions in life, if you could call it that is playing snooker. I became inter

At the age of around ten, I was bought a small five foot snooker table for Christmas. It was p

When I was aged twelve, I joined a snooker club with a close friend of mine and we started to

My first aim was to get a break of ten, which was then followed with a break of twenty.

I became quite obsessed and some would say quite sad, as whenever I had any spare time or spar

I entered many tournaments with mixed success, I probably won twelve minor local tournaments.

At the age of twenty seven after playing snooker on full size snooker tables for fifteen years

I must admit my determination has now started to wane and even though I still love to play sno

This is a demo version of txt2pdf v.10.1

Developed by SANFACE Software <http://www.sanface.com/>

Available at <http://www.sanface.com/txt2pdf.html>