Article Body:

Gregory (Greg) Raymer, also known as ^The Fossilman~, is an interesting, multi-faceted character.

In 1992, he began practicing as a Patent Attorney after graduating from the University of Minnesota.

His work for a pharmaceutical company in Stonington, Connecticut brought him in close proximity to the game.

As his interest in Poker grew, he began to read Poker tutorials and investigate online Poker.

Greg Raymer began playing at Foxwoods and enjoyed a continued success at the resorts tournaments.

Playing Poker online, Greg whiled away the next few years in short-handed and heads-up play. He became a professional.

Later in the year, Greg found himself in the biggest Poker tournament ever, one of no less than $10 million.

Known as ^Fossilman~ due to his hobby of collecting fossils, Raymer finished in 25th place in the tournament.

Greg ended 2005 with live Tournament winnings exceeding $5,590,000 and in 2006, he took second place in the tournament.

Success has not spoiled Greg Raymer. He is said to be a kind man, accessible to his many fans.

Greg, his wife and daughter still live in Connecticut but his Poker playing travels frequently.
