Article Body:

The National Football League or the NFL is the biggest professional football league in the United States.

At first, the most popular way people enjoyed their football was by watching their favorite college football games.

Over the years, some friendly and some not-so-friendly rivalries have come about due to a number of factors.

For example, in the AFC North, there is a rivalry between the Baltimore Ravens and the Cleveland Browns.

Another famous rivalry began in the AFC East when the Buffalo Bills owner, Ralph Wilson, wasn't a fan of the New York Jets.
